Veterans Oppose German Culture Rallies in Calgary

Organization Follows Cancellation of Meeting Last Night

Action in Other Towns

CALGARY (CP)—A veterans' organization was formed late last night with the object of preventing any meetings for the purpose of discussing "German culture" in Calgary. D. Morgan, imperial representative on the Alberta command, Canadian Legion, announced today.

The formation of the body followed a threat from Great War veterans last night to "break up" a German culture meeting which later was canceled on advice from Police Chief David Ritchie.

Veterans enrolled in the organization are members of the Canadian Legion, Army and Navy Veterans, the Canadian Corps and the Imperial Veterans' Association, said Mr. Morgan.

Canadian Legion officials also announced they had received word from Sam Robertson of Elkhart, Alta., that a vigilance committee had been organized in the district comprising Irricana, Bashaw, Stettler, Trochu, Three Hills, Delburne and Alix, to stop alleged spreading of Nazi propaganda.

TWO CONSTABLES SENT

Chief Ritchie, in a statement several hours after last night's meeting in Calgary had been called off, outlined his part in keeping the peace. "I received word that this meeting was to be held," he said, "I went over there and told them (the Canadian Legion) that if they held the meeting it might lead to a breach of the peace, and advised them not to meet. They did so. I had only a couple of men over there."

Veterans, estimated at between 100 and 200 in number, had begun to drift toward the hall from downtown Calgary early in the evening, said Ralph Wilson, Calgary newspaperman and spokesman for the returned soldiers.

Veterans were said to have "decided a German meeting would not be held in Calgary where Nazi propaganda could be distributed."

J. A. SUTHERLAND HEADS TEACHERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—J. A. Sutherland, Vancouver high school teacher, today was elected president of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation. He succeeds J. M. Thomas of Cobble Hill.

H. W. Creelman, principal of the Lamson Street elementary school, Esquimalt, was elected vice-president by acclamation when P. N. Whitley, Vancouver, the only other candidate, withdrew.

Mr. Sutherland was born in South Africa and taught school there and in Great Britain before coming to Vancouver. He has been on the staff of the Magee High School here for the past 12 years.

Miss A. J. Dauphinee of Vancouver was the only other candidate for presidency of the organization, whose membership of 3,100 represents 80 per cent of the province's school teachers.

Short Wave Radio Plan for Canada Recommended

Radio Committee of Commons to Propose $300,000 Expenditure

Preparing Report

OTTAWA (CP)—Preparation of the Commons radio committee's report will be undertaken immediately and Chairman Arthur L. Beaubien, Liberal-Provencer, Man., will name a subcommittee to work on it. This was decided at today's brief session of the committee.

Paul Martin, Liberal, East Essex, Ont., reminded the committee of the evidence given by Gladstone Murray, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, relating to the urgency of setting up a short wave transmission system in Canada. Due to failure to use the channels allotted to this country, Canada was in danger of losing them. One had already gone, Mr. Martin said.

It had been estimated $300,000 would be needed to establish the short wave system, with $100,000 annual maintenance. This should come from the consolidated revenue fund and not from the revenues of the CBC.

It was stated a recommendation to this effect would be made in the committee's report.

Mr. Beaubien read the recently published joint letter of L. W. Brockington, K.C., chairman of the CBC board of governors, and C. George McCullagh, Toronto publisher, setting forth the differences between them had been composed.

"Love's labor lost," commented Hon. J. Earl Lawson, Conservative, South York, Ont.

Embargo Talks On B.C. Coast

Anti-aggression Delegates to Come From U.S. to Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Officers of the Vancouver Embargo Council said today delegates from more than 100 organizations in British Columbia, Oregon and Washington will attend a Pacific northwest embargo conference to be held here April 22 and 23.

The Vancouver Embargo Council was formed "to oppose shipments of war materials to aggressive nations."

One of the speakers at the conference will be Loh Tse, who became known as the Chinese Joan of Arc for her activities during the Japanese siege of Shanghai. She is leader of the Student Union for National Salvation in China.

Others scheduled to speak at the conference are Arthur Harding, secretary of the Seattle District Maritime Federation; W. E. Priestley, secretary of the China Club of Seattle; Joseph Howe Hope, Victoria; Mrs. Isobel Costigan, feature writer for the Washington New Dealer.

HORSE CATCHING UP ON MAN IN RACE

Runner at Edmonton Now Only 12 Laps Ahead of Rider

EDMONTON (CP)—The horse was catching up on the man in Edmonton's unofficial race around the half-mile track at the exhibition grounds today where the contestants run when they feel like it and rest when they feel like it, too.

The race, which started Tuesday, is due to end Saturday night and today My Prince, the horse owned by Mrs. E. O. Greening, was 12 laps behind R. Bower, 45-year-old war veteran. Bower last night held a lead of 16 laps, which was cut down by the horse when the two were running today.

Balloon Explodes

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany (AP)—A weather observation balloon filled with hydrogen exploded today at the Zeppelin works, destroying a small wooden hangar which housed it. No one was injured. The balloon contained 80 cubic metres (2,825 cubic feet) of the inflammable gas.

SAYS ARMS BAN NO AID TO PEACE

Sumner Welles Against Mandatory Neutrality Policy for U.S.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State, said today a United States embargo on war supplies would not promote world peace. He expressed opposition to a mandatory neutrality policy in an address at founders' day ceremonies at the University of Virginia.

"The best interests of this nation, as well as the cause of world peace," Mr. Welles said, "are not advanced by our offering a premium to such nations as may desire to embark on a policy of dominating those peace-loving countries who threaten neither our security nor our national interests, by withholding from the latter the opportunity of buying here the very essentials which might make it possible for them to prevent conquest."

Mr. Welles has been supporting the proposal of Senator Key Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, to extend the "cash and carry" provisions of the U.S. neutrality law to munitions, which at present are banned to warring nations.

Fair Vote On Street Cars

Over 1,015 Ballots Marked Shortly Before Noon; Polls Close at 7

A medium vote was being registered on the street car extension by-laws today, according to figures released at noon by M. F. Hunter, returning officer.

From the time G. E. Bonner cast the initial vote shortly after the polls opened at 9 this morning, a steady stream passed through the Market Building doors to mark ballots. The poll will be open until 7 this evening. Counting will start immediately after that hour and an early announcement of the results is expected.

By 10 o'clock this morning 311 votes had been cast. The traffic became heavier and shortly before noon a total of 1,015 was registered.

During the lunch hour and in the later afternoon the volume swelled considerably with a late surge of voters also expected after store closing hours.

Headquarters of the street railwaymen's association, chief advocates of passage of the by-law to continue use of street cars for the next three years, reported the demand for cars by those wishing to vote had been very good during the morning.

The polling station presented a widely different appearance from that of usual civic elections. Absence of candidates in the straight by-law vote left the building comparatively empty except for the poll officials and voters.

WIDER TRADE NEGOTIATIONS—R. S. Hudson, British secretary for Overseas Trade, is back in London after a series of negotiations on the European continent to extend trade. This picture was taken while Mr. Hudson, right, was conferring in Warsaw with M. Roman, Polish Minister of Industry and Commerce. From there Mr. Hudson went to Moscow.

32 Lose Lives, 42 Hurt in Mexican Railway Wreck

Stalled Train Rammed From Behind Near Queretaro

Air Brakes Fail

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican railroad officials here said they had reports of 32 persons were killed and 42 injured in a passenger train collision near Queretaro today.

The first reports were that one train crashed into the rear of a second on the Guadalajara-Laredo line.

Train No. 2, which left Laredo yesterday, had stopped to repair a defective air-brake line near the station La Llave, 140 miles north of Mexico City, when a train from Guadalajara ploughed into the rear of it.

First reports said all the deaths occurred in the Guadalajara train. It was the latest of a series of wrecks on the worker-operated national railways, the management of which recently charged there were efforts at sabotage to discredit the railway and the government.

NO B.C. CONTROL ON TELEPHONES

Utility Commission Unable To Deal With Complaint Of Farmers' Institute

The B.C. Public Utilities Commission has no control over the operations of the B.C. Telephone Company, Lewis W. Patmore, K.C., acting chairman, has advised the Robson Farmers' Institute.

Mr. Patmore said today this reply had been given to a complaint from the farmers' institute against the service and rates furnished by the company to the district. The telephone company comes under control of the Dominion Railway Commission, he explained.

The public utilities commission has control over communications, but only those that are exclusively under provincial jurisdiction.

The acting chairman also announced that the commission has declined to order the West Kootenay Power and Light Company to construct new power lines from Summerland to Westbank on Okanagan Lake, as requested by the Westbank Chamber of Commerce.

Investigation showed the new construction would cost about $70,000 for possible revenue of $2,000 a year, barely enough to cover depreciation.

Mr. Patmore said the commission has not under investigation a complaint about radio interference from the West Kootenay Power and Light Company's lines.

Daladier Says France Ready for Any Emergency

Joins in Defence of Roumania and Greece In Blunt Statement

Polish Guarantee

PARIS (AP)—Premier Daladier announced today France was ready militarily for emergencies and, with Britain, had promised her aid in case of need to Greece and Roumania as well as Poland.

His declaration, made in a bluntly worded statement, came only a few minutes after Prime Minister Chamberlain in London had announced similar commitments to Greece and Roumania.

It was accepted here as designed to serve two major purposes:

1. To tell Germany and Italy that any act of aggression would bring a serious risk of war.

2. To bolster the determination of those countries which feel themselves menaced and are inclined to resist.

The Premier in person read a statement to the press declaring that "without verbal manifestations and without vain provocations," the nation had reinforced its defences "to guarantee the frontiers of France and its empire against any surprise."

The French Premier also announced France and Poland were immediately and directly guaranteeing each other against any threat, direct or indirect, affecting their vital interests.

BALKAN STATUS QUO

He declared the French government attached the greatest importance to the prevention of any modification by force or the menace of force of the status quo in the Mediterranean Sea or the Balkan Peninsula (Roumania, Greece, Yugoslavia and Turkey).

He added the French government was continuing the necessary diplomatic action for the maintenance of peace and strengthening of the solidarity which "should unite before the common peril of all countries resolved to preserve their liberty."

M. Daladier said the protection of "all French interests direct or indirect and of France's alliances" remained the government's duty and desire.

Meanwhile France strengthened her land, sea and air forces and co-ordinated them with Britain's to bolster their "Halt Hitler and Mussolini" campaign.

CO-OPERATION

"Our objective," M. Daladier said, "is to organize the necessary collaboration among those nations which have no idea of menacing the vital interests of any people, which do not refuse to enter into the loyal examination of present problems and which are determined to oppose any attempt at domination."

"Taking into consideration the special uneasiness that events of the last few weeks have brought on, the French government has given to Roumania and Greece particular assurance that in case any action should be attempted which would clearly menace the independence of Roumania or Greece and which the Roumanian or Greek governments felt it to be to their vital interest to resist with their national forces, the French government will consider itself bound to lend immediately all assistance in its power."

German Warships Sent to Spain

PARIS (CP)—A Havas News Agency dispatch from London tonight said it was reported in British navy circles Germany had informed Great Britain officially that a German naval squadron including the battleship Deutschland, was leaving immediately for Spanish waters.

Official London circles maintained silence, but the dispatch said naval experts linked the reported German warship movement with Spain's recent adherence to the anti-Comintern pact. Burgos, it was said, had signed a protocol to the pact allowing the German fleet to use the peninsula's naval bases.

Warships At Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—The British cruiser Arethusa and five destroyers arrived here today to participate in coastal defence manoeuvres with British land and air forces.

British-French Pledge Given Greece, Roumania

Roumania Grateful

BUCHAREST, Roumania (AP)—Officials said they "welcomed heartily" the assurance of Anglo-French support for Roumania given by Prime Minister Chamberlain today in London.

There was no formal statement from the Foreign Office, officials still being occupied with study of Mr. Chamberlain's exact words, which were being compared with preliminary assurances of support which came through diplomatic channels.

BERLIN (AP)—Indications were given in official German circles today Nazi leaders were unprepared for the inclusion of Roumania as well as Greece in the Anglo-French pledges of protection announced by Prime Minister Chamberlain in London.

Mr. Chamberlain's reference to Turkey—indicating the prospect the pledges might be extended to the guardian of the Dardanelles—also caused surprise.

Informed circles expected the Nazis would seize on Mr. Chamberlain's statement Britain was continuing conversations with Soviet Russia as further evidence in support of their charges Britain is helping admit Bolshevism into the smaller nations of Europe.

Envoys Hear Chamberlain

LONDON (CP)—Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner, heard Prime Minister Chamberlain's address on the European situation today in the Commons. He sat in the Dominions gallery.

Charles de Water of South Africa and J. W. Dulanty, the High Commissioner of Eire, also were present.

The Duke of Kent sat in the distinguished visitors' gallery next to the Belgian ambassador, Baron Cartier de Marchienne. The Russian ambassador, Ivan Maysky, was two seats away.

Fleets Await Orders

PARIS (AP)—The combined French and British Mediterranean fleets—normally at least 160 units—were standing "somewhere in the Mediterranean" today ready for orders.

In event of conflict this formidable naval force, which normally includes about 74 destroyers and 50 submarines, would move as one fleet.

Under the British-French agreement reached before the present tension, both fleets would be under the single command of a ranking British admiral.

Russia Told of Bloc Moves

LONDON (CP)—The House of Commons was crowded to overflowing today while Prime Minister Chamberlain spoke on the European situation and British-French moves against aggression. Many members had reserved their seats hours before the debate started.

Only once was the Prime Minister thrown off his main thrust of argument. Near the end of his speech Labor and Liberal members demanded some reference to Russia, with Miss Ellen Wilkinson shouting: "Deal with Russia! Cut out the blah!"

The Prime Minister hastened to declare his omission of a reference to Russia did not mean the Soviets were not being kept informed. Britain's difficulty was that the government must deal not only "with what we wish, but what others will do."

Once again the Prime Minister declared there were no prejudices or ideological notions in attempting to line up the peace-loving forces against aggression in Europe.

Italy Says Pledge Not Needed

ROME (AP)—Fascists regarded Prime Minister Chamberlain's announcement of Anglo-French guarantees to Greece and Roumania today as "unnecessary and gratuitous" because, they said, the independence of neither of those powers had been threatened.

They called attention especially to the fact Premier Mussolini had given assurances on Monday to Greece that Italy had no hostile designs toward her.

Italian King Takes Albanian Crown

LONDON (AP)—Reuters news agency reported tonight King Vittorio Emanuele of Italy had accepted the crown of Albania.

The council said it had accepted the union of Albania with Italy under the King as proposed by the Albanian Assembly yesterday.

Premier Mussolini's appearance on the balcony of the Palazzo Venezia was greeted with shouts of "Tunisia" and "On to Paris."

Mussolini said "the world must know that tomorrow, as yesterday and as always, we are going to march straight ahead."

Japanese Purchases In B.C. Not Reported

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion government has no information regarding Japanese interests acquiring extensive timber and mining properties in British Columbia, C. Grant MacNell, C.C.F. Vancouver North, was told in a return tabled in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Chamberlain States Military Support If Freedom Threatened

LONDON (CP and AP)—Great Britain and France will place all their resources behind Greece and Roumania if the independence of either is threatened, Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons today.

This pledge of military support followed a similar guarantee given a few days ago to Poland and was another step in the united front against aggression in Europe.

The Prime Minister thus extended Britain's commitments of protection clear to the borders of the Soviet Union from the Baltic to the Black Sea.

Premier Daladier of France made a similar statement in Paris.

Prime Minister Chamberlain condemned the Italian invasion of Albania, but announced Britain would not denounce the Anglo-Italian treaty.

He said the invasion had profoundly shocked the world, and called it "this fresh exhibition of the use of force." He declared "we are confronted with a divergence of testimony" in the Italian and Albanian accounts.

Of the Anglo-Italian accord he said it had "been justified and should not at this moment be ended."

TERMS OF PLEDGE

Britain's latest commitment in Europe was outlined by Mr. Chamberlain in these words:

"I therefore take this opportunity of saying that the government attach the greatest importance to the avoidance of disturbance by force, or fears of force, of the status quo in the Mediterranean and the Balkan peninsula."

"Consequently they have come to the conclusion that in the event of action being taken clearly threatening the independence of Greece or Roumania, and which the Greek or Roumanian government consider it vital to resist with their forces, His Majesty's government feel themselves bound at once to lend the Greek or Roumanian government all the support in their power."

"We are communicating this declaration to the governments directly concerned and to others, especially to Turkey, whose close relations with the Greek government are well known. I understand the French government are making a similar declaration."

The pledge to Roumania had not been expected today. It had been forecast that a direct pledge would be made to Turkey.

ITALIAN GOOD FAITH

Britain looks to the Italian government to give practical evidence of good faith in the future, the Prime Minister declared. This could be demonstrated by prompt observance of fresh assurances from Rome that Italian troops, planes and pilots would be evacuated from Spain immediately after General Franco's "victory parade" in Madrid May 2.

The Prime Minister's speech was punctuated by derisive laughter from the opposition benches at his recital of Italian promises not to interfere with Albanian sovereignty.

Italy's action in Albania, he said, "must inevitably be the cause of further uneasiness and increased international tension."

He expressed his own "deep disappointment at the action of the Italian government which has cast a shadow over the genuineness of their intentions to carry out their undertakings."

He disclosed the British ambassador to Italy, the Earl of Perth, had reminded the Italian government that "the situation might raise in acute form the question of the status quo in the Mediterranean."

"The Adriatic is certainly a part of the Mediterranean area, and the Italian government could not therefore claim the British government was not concerned," he said.

9 NURSES QUIT COMOX HOSPITAL

Nurs Take Over Duties
After Dispute On Working Conditions

COMOX, B.C. (CP) — Nuns took over nursing duties at St. Joseph's Hospital here today after nine of the institution's 12 regular nurses quit because of a breakdown in negotiations for better working conditions and increased wages.

Sister Walberga, superior of the hospital which is operated by the Sisters of St. Joseph, said efforts were being made to find replacements in Vancouver and Victoria. Four nurses from St. Paul's Hospital, Roman Catholic institution in Vancouver, already are on their way, she said.

Fifty patients in the hospital were being cared for, she said, by the three remaining nurses, two interns and other sisters.

"We are carrying along very nicely," she said. "There is no danger... the shortage of staff has made conditions pressing for a while, but things will soon be operating smoothly again."

Sister Walberga indicated there would be no further negotiations with the nine nurses who quit the institution yesterday. She said "I hardly think they would want to come back."

"We are not angry with the nurses who walked out," the sister superior said. "They were all good girls. Perhaps they were a little impulsive and acted imprudently. We have not heard from them since they walked out."

The nurses had asked for an eight-hour day, six-day week, two weeks' vacation with pay, two weeks' sick leave with pay and increased wages. The hospital agreed to all demands except that for sick leave with pay.

"It is financially impossible for the hospital to accede to their demands," Sister Walberga said. "We are willing to give them better conditions; we know they deserve them. But most of our patients are on relief or too poor to pay, and the government grant is insufficient."

Of the nine nurses who left, six were graduates and three undergraduates. Two graduates and one undergraduate refused to walk out.

GERMANY SAYS IT WANTS PEACE

'War Psychosis' in Democrats Scorned
By Spokesman

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER

Associated Press Foreign Staff

BERLIN — Official Germany took the position today that if the world should be plunged into war the fault would lie with the democracies for not heeding Chancellor Hitler's "pleas" for peace and his warnings against "international warmongers."

The United States was presented as an example of a nation which fosters the "war psychosis."

Commenting on the decision of U.S. insurance companies to cancel war risk insurance for German and Italian ships, a government spokesman said:

"If a people is being urged to war the way the American people are nobody need be surprised if business gets jittery. This is a typical example of panic politics."

"Germany is doing nothing but pleading for peace. Our Fuehrer himself has decided to call the September party rally at Nuremberg 'the party convention of peace.'"

These views were expressed as Germany's newspaper war, increasingly critical on Britain to counteract "infamous speculations" of Germany's plans, assumed an unprecedented vehemence and as new demands were raised for colonial territory.

Official circles showed keen apprehension over the possibility peoples of the western democracies already had been "incited" to the point where they were more radical in their demands for war than their governments.

This was referred to as "overheating of the people's minds."

Following yesterday's allegations of British oppression on the Mediterranean islands of Cyprus and Malta, morning editions charged oppression of the Arabs in Palestine.

All the morning editions prominently displayed such headlines as "agitating Arab cries for help against British terror," based on purported messages of protest from the Arab town of Lydda, Palestine, which were carried by Deutsche Dienst.

The commentary found British military action at Lydda to be "an example of British cruelty" and declared that "robbery, cruelty and blood are the building stones of the British Empire."

Divergences in Albanian Story

Chamberlain Says
Testimony On Italian
Invasion Differs

LONDON (AP) — Discussing Italy's occupation of Albania during his speech in the House of Commons today Prime Minister Chamberlain said that "when we come to examine the background of the events, we are confronted with a divergence of testimony."

He recalled Italian contentions that "King Zog became hostile and Italy must protect its interests."

He added: "The Albanian minister reported to Lord Halifax (Foreign Secretary) soon after the Italian invasion that the Albanians had rejected an ultimatum delivered to them by Italy. The Albanian minister appealed to the British government to do their utmost in the aid of a small nation which was desperately trying to defend its own territory."

"Rightly or wrongly the stories of the oppression of Italians, etc., are regarded with doubt and suspicion."

Amid cheers, he went on: "Whatever their faith, whether Christian or Moslem, it must be apparent that a powerful nation has imposed its will on a small, relatively defenceless country and has done so by an imposing show of armed force."

France Advances Preparedness By Secret Decrees

Reports German Arms
And Men Moving
To Italy Studied

See Flank Attack

PARIS (AP)—France's armed preparedness was advanced today by military decrees, details of which remained secret. Their general effect, however, was known in that they called more reservists to join the already swollen land army estimated at more than 1,200,000 men. Men and munitions were massed mostly in fortifications and rear-guard camps.

Nearly all French observers, speculating on reports of activities along the Rome-Berlin axis, agreed that it was Germany and Italy would attempt to flank France's Maginot Line facing the Rhine by an attack through the Alps and from Spain.

THROUGH SWITZERLAND

For weeks French and Swiss newspapers have carried reports of German men, arms and war materials passing through the Brenner Pass and other routes into Italy.

On Easter Monday alone, according to the Swiss German-language newspaper Freiheit of Basel, 15 long trains loaded with munitions went through Switzerland into Italy from Germany.

Observers on the Spanish border reported at least one artillery battery, with its muzzles pointed toward France, had been placed in plain sight on the Spanish side of the Perthus Pass.

The Le Perthus reports followed numerous other reports in recent months that Spaniards were fortifying their boundary with France. Reports of increased fortification of land boundaries in Spanish Morocco also were under study.

POLISH FAMILIES LEAVE GERMANY

Consuls Send Wives
Home; Warsaw Ignores
Anti-British Pressure

WARSAW (AP)—The Polish Foreign Office was reported today to have instructed officials of the Polish embassy and consular offices in Germany to send their families home.

The report was heard as Poland apparently ignored German pressure to keep her out of the "anti-aggression" bloc of Great Britain and France and the entire Warsaw press published editorials supporting Poland's recently announced defence alliance with Britain.

Officials took no public notice of a Nazi newspaper campaign which informed quarters here said was intended to "intimidate" Poland and prevent her from signing the pact.

Official quarters said they saw "obvious public manoeuvres" by Germany to bluff Poland into neutrality.

They said Foreign Minister Joseph Beck's train was held up several hours on the German side of the frontier last Saturday so Germans could parade their military might before the eyes of the Foreign Minister as he returned from his talks in London.

The Foreign Office denied Germany had made any new suggestions in her demands for the Free City of Danzig, highway rights across the Polish Corridor and cession of Bogumim, a railway junction city in the southern frontier region near Slovakia.

(German officials suggested that Warsaw make public the German demands, the essence of which already was common knowledge, and said the disclosure would show the world that they were "not exorbitant" and in no way endangered "the independence or territorial integrity of Poland.")

Polish sources in Danzig denied German press reports that large numbers of German residents of Poland were fleeing because of anti-German "excesses."

Troops Watched On Balkan Borders

ROME (AP)—Italian forces of occupation in Albania have been established along the new dependency's frontiers with Greece and Yugoslavia, but Mussolini has assured both countries of Italian respect for their integrity.

In view of Italy's disavowal of expansion intentions in the Balkans, foreign diplomats were puzzled today by her unprecedented peacetime strength of men under arms, and other evidences of war preparedness. The calling of reservists had boosted the army over the 1,000,000 mark.

Union Bill in Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — David Croil, Liberal member for Windsor-Walkerville, introduced in the Legislature yesterday a bill for a "freedom of trade union association act."

Air Raid Whistles Clear Rome Streets

ROME (AP) — Anti-air raid whistles cleared the streets of Rome today in a test of the defence of Italy's capital against bombardments from the sky.

The whistles sounded at 10:20 a.m. Three big bombers flew low over the civilian airport at the edge of the city. Pedestrians hurriedly sought shelter, with bicycle police sending laggards indoors. Buses and street cars stopped while passengers took refuge in nearby doorways. Storekeepers dropped their shutters.

Whistles sounded the end of the alarm at 10:40 a.m.

The air raid practice at the Vatican found Pope Pius holding a series of private audiences. The pontiff continued these calmly although a few of his visitors were late because of traffic interruptions.

Cheese Bonusing Totals $950,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Bonusing of cheese, planned under legislation now before the House of Commons, will benefit producers by approximately $950,000 yearly, it is estimated here.

Hon. J. G. Gardiner's bill, introduced last week, provides a bonus of two cents a pound on top-grade cheese to encourage makers to improve the standard. The bonus, it is understood, will apply to all cheese-producing provinces and eight of the nine provinces produce it. Nova Scotia is the exception.

All cheddar cheese scoring more than 92 points will be given the bonus. On that basis approximately 40 per cent of Canadian cheese will qualify as last year 38.7 per cent scored 93 and less than 2 per cent 94. In classing cheese points are given for flavor, texture and mechanical perfection.

Production of cheese in Canada last year totaled 120,726,005 pounds, valued at approximately $12,000,000 compared with 128,443,337 at $17,845,300 in 1937.

Ontario is Canada's largest cheese producing province, followed by Quebec.

Halifax Makes Corfu Statement

Says Italian Envoy
Assured Britain No
Move Against Greece

LONDON (CP)—Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, told the House of Lords today about an exchange with Guido Crolla, Italian charge d'affaires, concerning Corfu.

In the course of a statement paralleling the one made in the Commons by Prime Minister Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary said Crolla, on April 8, "assured me the Italian government were certainly not going to threaten Greek independence and that any British occupation of Corfu would create most dangerous reactions."

Lord Halifax said he told Crolla the British government had no intention of occupying Corfu, but "would certainly take a very grave view if anybody else occupied it."

Corfu is a Greek island facing the heel of the Italian boot at the entrance to the Adriatic. It is of great strategic importance.

Lord Halifax repeated to the peers the pledge to Roumania and Greece which the Prime Minister had announced in the lower House. He said the government was fully aware of the gravity of the decisions it had made. It believed a perfectly clear definition of its attitude in certain events, from which in no case could it properly stand aside, would render those events less likely.

He said recent acts of aggression by the axis powers were condemned not only "by the overwhelming mass of opinion in this country, but also by most of the states of Europe and by the United States of America."

Of the Italian invasion of Albania, the Foreign Secretary said "no one act in this business could have more effectively shocked religious sentiment everywhere than the fact that it should have been initiated on the day which to most Christians was the most sacred of the year" (Good Friday).

Danzig Protests Acts of Poles

DANZIG (AP) — The Danzig Free State government today handed a note to the Polish envoy here protesting against "Polish provocations."

Cooling of diplomatic relations between the Nazi-dominated Free State at the head of the Polish Corridor, and Poland has been noticeable in the last few days. The official press announcement of the note said that in the last few days anti-Danzig leaflets had been thrown from Polish trains passing through the Danzig territory.

The leaflets were said to have contained a Polish song demanding incorporation of the Free State in Poland. The Free State is administered under League of Nations supervision.

The note referred to the "dangerous results of these Polish provocations."

DRESSMAKER HAD TO QUIT SEWING

Hands Swollen With Rheumatism

Pity this poor dressmaker! Nine-tenths of her work consists of sewing—and she was not able to sew. Rheumatism in the hands was her trouble, and she tried many number of remedies. But nothing helped much—until she came to Kruschen.

"Three and a half years ago," she writes, "I had a violent attack of rheumatic pains. My feet and hands were swollen. The pain was terrible. I was really quite crippled and helpless."

"I tried many remedies without success. Then I started on Kruschen Salts, and after one month, I could stand up again. Then, in three months, I was quite well again. As I am a dressmaker, you can imagine what it meant to be able to walk, to work, and to be free from pain."—(Mrs.) E.S.

The stabbing pains of rheumatism are often caused by needle-pointed crystals of uric acid lodging in the joints. Kruschen brings relief because it helps to dissolve those troubling crystals and to expel them from the system.

Vancouver Japanese Aid Canada's Defence

VANCOUVER (CP)—Forty-five Vancouver Japanese who served with Canadian forces in the Great War have reported to the Department of National Defence for home guard duty in wartime, Saburo Shinobu, adviser to the Japanese branch of the Canadian Legion, said today.

The group were members of a force of 196 Japanese who went to France from Vancouver in 1915. About 75 members of the original force still live in Vancouver and 54 were killed in action. Five of the members won decorations during the war.

"I don't think we could go overseas this time as our average age is 53," Shinobu said today. "But we are quite willing, as are all war veterans, to do home service in wartime."

Shores Defeated By Calgary Five

Vancouver Basketball Champs Lose Western
Playoff to Alberta Women

CALGARY (CP) — Roaring from behind a second quarter seven-point deficit in one of the greatest third-quarter assaults seen here, Calgary Buffaloes, Alberta senior women's basketball champions, defeated Vancouver Shores 40 to 31 last night to enter the western Canada women's senior finals against Winnipeg Dominions, Manitoba champions.

Buffaloes took the two-game total point series 84 to 77 and will begin the best-in-three series against Dominions at Winnipeg Saturday night. Shores, British Columbia champions, nosed out a 46 to 44 win in the closely fought initial game Tuesday night.

Margaret Dalrymple, husky Calgary forward, was high scorer of the night with 13 points, sparked the third-quarter spree with four field goals and two points on free throws. Then Elsie Busch added two more field goals to give the Buffaloes an 11-point advantage.

Shores appeared to have command against their lighter opponents in the initial half. They jumped into an early lead, built up a nine-point margin on the

Man, Brag About Your Wife

by Mary Blake

Do you brag about the coffee she makes? If that isn't easy to do—get her to try Carnation Milk for creaming the coffee. It may surprise you what a new, rich, smooth flavour you'll find!

Carnation gives smooth richness to good coffee because Carnation Milk itself is rich and smooth—double-rich milk of the consistency of cream. Wherever, in cooking or creaming, milk is called for, Carnation Milk means finer flavour, finer texture—and it is very economical.

For one use where cost doesn't matter, economical Carnation is also best—in baby-feeding. More digestible than cows' milk in any other form. Carnation is just whole milk with part of the natural water taken out; sterilized so it keeps on the pantry shelf indefinitely; homogenized to give every drop equal creamy smoothness; irradiated for extra "sunshine" vitamin D.

There are glorified recipes of all kinds in the beautifully illustrated Carnation Cook Book—16 (post-paid). Carnation Company Limited, Abbott St., Vancouver, B.C.

RADIO—listen to the "Contented Hour" every Monday night. See your local newspaper for stations and time.

SOME CARNATION BEVERAGES

Coffee creamed with Carnation, of course. For cafe au lait, use equal parts hot coffee and hot Carnation Milk. Try mixing part equal parts hot coffee and hot Carnation Milk. Here's a surprising one—Carnation with two parts tomato juice. Carnation Cook-Book equal parts Carnation Milk and ginger ale. Carnation Cook-Book equal parts Carnation Milk, 1/2 cup fruit juice, 1 egg—mix well and chill. Spiced milk—3/4 tsp. cinnamon, 1/2 cup Carnation Milk, 3 cups boiling water, 3 dashes of nutmeg, 3 cups boiling water on cups Carnation Milk. Pour boiling water on spices, then Carnation. Stir vigorously.

PHILO VANCE CREATOR DIES

Willard H. Wright, Who Wrote As S. S. Van Dine, Passes in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—S. S. Van Dine, the man who sent the eminently clever Philo Vance sleuthing through the pages of 11 first-rate murder mysteries, is dead.

He was Willard Huntington Wright, 51, and by that name he was known as scholar, critic, editor and aesthetic until a nervous breakdown turned his thoughts away from Nietzsche, modern painting and anthropology to the less ponderous but more engaging subject of who killed whom and why. He was a native of Charlottesville, Va.

Wright became literary editor of the Los Angeles Times—he was home with a headache when the newspaper building was bombed in 1910—and at various times was literary critic of Town Topics, editor of the Smart Set magazine, art critic of The Forum and of the International Studio, literary editor of The New York Evening Mail, music critic and art editor of the San Francisco Bulletin and art critic of Hearst's International magazine.

For a long time the identity of "S. S. Van Dine" was a mystery almost as unfathomable as the cases Philo Vance was called on to solve. The literary world knew it was a nom de plume, but whose was anybody's guess. Few thought of Wright as the author.

One idiosyncrasy of Wright was quickly noted: The titles of the murder cases always were composed of six letters—Greene, Scarab, Bishop, Kennel, etc.

Through all of them Philo Vance was never to be defeated, seldom to fail to demonstrate his amazing powers of deduction. His erudition paled at times, and sometimes appeared to be mere trumpery, but Vance's certain power carried his creator on.

Hollywood called and Vance demonstrated his debonair manners on the screen through the medium of William Powell.

Church Movies

TORONTO (CP)—Plans are under discussion for production of religious films in Canada, Rev. C. H. Dickinson, book steward of the United Church of Canada, told the board of evangelism and social service at its annual meeting yesterday.

Pigeons Registered For British Defence

LONDON (CP)—Mindful of the vital importance of racing pigeons in relaying important messages during the Great War, the authorities have organized the nucleus of a national pigeon service, forming a cog in Britain's preparedness machine.

Under the direction of Major W. H. Osman, who had charge of the pigeon flying section during the World War, a register of pigeon fanciers and trainers has been drawn up.

Bases have already been established at Calshot and Singapore, where pigeons are being used in connection with service work. Additional bases are now in process of formation.

No Pensioner Report

OTTAWA (CP)—A motion by John H. Blackmore, Social Credit leader, for a return of names, period of service and present address of all Great War pensioners, male and female, was dropped when Pensions Minister Power told the House of Commons yesterday the amount of work involved in preparing such a return.

To comply with the motion would mean examination of some 100,000 files, the minister said.

U.S. War Supply Exports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Great Britain and France obtained licenses for the export of approximately $25,000,000 worth of war supplies from the United States in the first quarter of this year.

The U.S. state department yesterday said licenses had been issued for export to Great Britain in the amount of $13,202,967 and to France for $11,134,764.

The supplies consist almost entirely of airplanes.

Actual shipments ran considerably under the licenses issued totaling just over $10,000,000 for the two countries. Britain so far this year has taken out of this country $5,368,238 worth of war materials and France $4,667,460.

LLOYD GEORGE FOR PACT WITH RUSSIA

Attacks Chamberlain's Foreign Policy; Urges Definite Alliance

PWLLHELI, Wales. (CP)—David Lloyd George in a speech to his Welsh constituents last night demanded an anti-aggression alliance with Russia and denounced Prime Minister Chamberlain's foreign policy.

The wartime Prime Minister said that if a definite military understanding linking Great Britain, France and Russia, were established immediately neither of the axis dictators would launch a fresh raid.

But, he asserted, Russia would not join a "skedaddling alliance such as we have been accustomed to recently."

Since Mr. Chamberlain returned from Munich in the autumn declaring he had brought back "peace in our time," the predictions of many experienced men that submission to aggressors would only engender a period of worse crisis had turned out to be calamitously true, Mr. Lloyd George said.

Unless Russia were brought into a definite military alliance, he said, it would be idle to invite Rumania, Greece and Yugoslavia to risk their lives on promises made by two powers which had "so disgracefully abandoned Austria, Czechoslovakia and Albania to the rapine of the dictators."

"I am certain Russia will not come in unless definite assurance is given her that Britain and France will act and not merely talk," he declared.

CHURCHILL URGES VIGOROUS POLICY

Britain Must Not Take Halfway Measures In Europe, He Declares

LEPPING, Essex, Eng. (CP)—Havas—A warning Great Britain's new foreign policy must be pursued with resolution and could not, stop half way was sounded last night by Winston Churchill.

He declared in a speech he could agree in principle with the new policy, but the danger was it might be carried out in such a faltering and dilatory manner that it would not succeed.

"Having started out on an agreement with Poland and trying to make a peace preservation society for Europe even at the risk of war, we cannot stop half-way," said the former cabinet member.

"To do that would be to get the disadvantages of the two courses—to have the enmity of the terrible powers who menace the peace of the world, and to have no security."

Mr. Churchill said he thought it "a great pity" that a year ago "Anthony Eden, that young figure of hope and courage, should have been driven from the great office he was fulfilling (that of Foreign Secretary) with so much distinction."

He said he wished the principle of a compulsory national register could be established at once.

"We made ourselves ridiculous in the eyes of foreign countries," he stressed, "when we pretended we could not even ask people to fill in a form so the government could tell them what they ought to do for their own safety when trouble came."

Manitoba Budget Approved in House

WINNIPEG (CP)—In the face of 42 amendments and 10 divisions in the Legislature, the Bracken government last night obtained adoption of its 1939-40 budget.

The budget, presented by Hon. Stuart Garson, provincial treasurer, on March 3, forecasts a surplus of $320,940 for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1940. It places estimated revenue at $16,109,837 and expenditures at $15,788,897.

The barrage of amendments originated with Erick F. Willis, Conservative leader, who sought to eliminate restoration of members' indemnity cuts and higher civil service salaries. The increased indemnities for members total $163 each, raising the seasonal wage from $1,674 to $1,837.

Premier Bracken told the House the so-called increases were actually only partial restorations, which left government salaries still about 10 per cent below the original figures which were reduced in 1932.

His job is to keep the tally count of prisoners five times a day, an important job in prison administration.

Low Rental Housing Schemes Urged

Federal Government Suggests Municipalities Widen Their Support

OTTAWA (CP)—The government is most anxious to see the low rental provisions of the National Housing Act utilized, Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Finance, told the House of Commons yesterday. It was necessary, however, for either a municipality or a group of public spirited citizens to act and take responsibility for a housing scheme which would be assisted by the government under the act.

Since last session the government had been promoting low-rental housing as much as possible. As a result of that experience in promotion, the minister said he had no amendments to suggest this session.

Considerable interest had been displayed in the act in British Columbia.

Paul Martin, Liberal, East Essex, Ont., complained that those who most needed housing were unable to take advantage of the legislation because of the need for 20 per cent initial investment by the prospective home-builder. He urged an amendment to reduce the owner's equity to 10 per cent.

To J. C. Landervoy, Social Credit, Calgary East, Mr. Dunning said the chances of a builder losing his property for taxes were lessened under the Housing Act because of the amortization system of monthly payments of principal, interest and taxes.

Professors Voice Anti-war Views

Neutrality for Canada Advocated By F. R. Scott of McGill

TORONTO (CP)—Prof. F. R. Scott of McGill University, before the English and History section of the Ontario Educational Association yesterday urged complete neutrality for Canada in the event of a European war.

"Canada is again merely a colony of Britain and when Britain is at war we shall be," he said, "We have not as much say in the decision to declare war as the lowliest voter in London or Glasgow. Our foreign minister is Neville Chamberlain and when his cabinet votes for war it will also vote for Canada."

Prof. Scott asked that Canada demand complete control over her foreign policy and over the machinery which would commit the country to war. He urged repudiation of a present policy which makes the Dominion "merely a colony in the British Empire" in favor of the development of a Canadian independence and nationalism within the British Commonwealth of Nations.

QUESTIONED IN LEGISLATURE

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn said yesterday in the Legislature he would ask the Minister of Education, Hon. L. J. Simpson, to look into remarks attributed to Professor G. M. A. Grube, professor of Classics at Trinity College, Toronto, in an address before the Ontario convention of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation last Friday.

A newspaper clipping read to the House by Thomas A. Murphy, Conservative, Toronto-Beaches, quoted Professor Grube as describing Canada's defence budget as a "waste of public funds in the interests of British imperialism" and saying a "European war would have nothing to do with democracy."

Mr. Murphy said that as the University of Toronto, with which Trinity is associated, is supported by funds voted by the Legislature, something should be done about such remarks as those of Professor Grube.

Premier Hepburn and Lieut. Col. Drew, Conservative leader, associated themselves with Mr. Murphy's condemnation.

"Usually when we find communist activity, we find as well men associated with leading positions in our universities," said Premier Hepburn. "There should be discipline in some way or other. I will refer it to the Minister of Education."

Milk Sale Licences

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—Legislation enabling this city council to license all milk vendors will be introduced at the council's next meeting, according to an announcement by Alderman Charles Spencer, chairman of the health committee.

A fee of $5 semi-annually is proposed for vendors not already holding trade licenses and 50 cents semi-annually for those already holding trade licenses.

Currency Control Debated By M.P.'s

Social Credit Members Urge Government Issue Interest-free Money

OTTAWA (CP)—Although a temporary halt has been called in the Social Credit party's campaign to impress its monetary reform views on the House of Commons, it will be resumed as soon as Hon. Charles Dunning moves second reading of his bill empowering the government to carry on necessary borrowings for the current year up to a maximum of $750,000,000.

John H. Blackmore, leader of the Social Credit group, yesterday announced his party would cease opposition to the resolution preceding the bill pending the second reading stage of the bill itself. But at that time, he said, they would renew their efforts to convert the government to a policy of interest-free money.

The resolution was adopted after the Minister of Finance had assured the house the Bank of Canada would exercise its power, as it had in the past, of expanding the volume of money in circulation whenever it was necessary to maintain a reasonable equilibrium in Canadian business. The bill was introduced and given first reading.

To a suggestion from A. A. Heaps, C.C.F., Winnipeg North, that the government issue debt-free money for public works, as was done under the last Conservative regime, Mr. Dunning said no such request could be answered categorically.

It was in the power of the Bank of Canada to issue whatever currency was necessary for the best interests of Canada as a whole, the minister said.

The degree of expansion of currency in circulation since the Bank of Canada began operations in 1935 was proof the bank was discharging its function of controlling expansion, he added.

Mr. Blackmore said his party was opposed to further borrowings and consequent additions to the national debt.

There was a possibility of war and if Canada were involved there would be such financial obligations that the debt would quickly reach a stage where it would be insupportable.

Forging the Ring

STATEMENTS MADE TODAY BY PRIME Minister Chamberlain in the British House of Commons and by Premier Daladier to the French press extend the "Stop Hitler" bloc to include Greece and Roumania. Definitely ranged against the chief central European totalitarian states now are Great Britain, France, Poland and the two Balkan nations which occupy the most important strategic and economic positions on the continental stage.

Leaders of Fascism in Rome, of course, do not welcome the announcements of the heads of the British and French governments. "Unnecessary and gratuitous" is the term used by unofficial spokesmen for Premier Mussolini. Hitlerized Germany is taking the view that if the world should be plunged into war the fault would lie with the democracies—for not heeding Reichsfuehrer Hitler's "pleas" for peace and his warning against "international warmongers." This type of comment from the totalitarian states is neither novel nor new. Rather does it reflect the mental attitude of the strategically checkmated.

The part of Mr. Chamberlain's statement which contains the specific promise to Greece or Roumania would appear to offer no loophole. He said: "They (his government) have come to the conclusion that in the event of action being taken clearly threatening the independence of Greece or Roumania, and which the Greek or Roumanian governments consider it vital to resist with their forces, His Majesty's government feel themselves bound at once to lend the Greek or Roumanian government all the support in their power."

Today's pronouncements, however, contain an element of surprise in that they do not follow the line which it was expected they would take. The general opinion was that Turkey would be taken into the orbit of Anglo-French protection if that policy were extended to the Balkan states. This is not to suggest that the republic of Europe's first full-time dictator is to be left out in the cold. It very probably means that negotiations have not yet reached a definite point. Turkey's financial obligations to Great Britain—apart from a friendly association between their respective governments—would seem to assure co-operation at the right time. Greece and Turkey, moreover, are on the most friendly terms, indicating perhaps that a tacit "understanding" already exists.

In view of the latest developments, therefore, Germany and Italy are confronted with a formidable barrier to any eastern or south-eastern aspirations on which they might like to try to cash in. Yugoslavia and Greece stand in Italy's way; Poland in Germany's. Hungary might easily wilt under Teutonic pressure; but there still remain the Anglo-French guarantees to Roumania, and the Mediterranean Hellenic state. The next move by the axis powers, if they are in the mood to make one calculated to impress the world at large, would mean war. There is nothing to indicate that either Berlin or Rome is ready for the final plunge.

Mr. Chamberlain still thinks nothing has occurred so far to induce his government to abrogate the Anglo-Italian friendship pact. Nor would any good purpose be served by questioning his judgment on the point. What is far more important at the moment is that the Anglo-French-Polish "axis" has now been widened to include new territory with outstanding economic and strategic value. Today's move may well be the beginning of the end of totalitarian bombast.

How They Fought For It!

SOME OF THOSE VALIANT WOMEN who value the right to vote and remember the price paid for the privilege have just celebrated the coming-of-age of their victory in Great Britain. Many will recall that in the years shortly before the outbreak of the Great War the suffragettes or "suffragettes"—according to one's greater or lesser respect for the King's English—were front-page news almost every day for months. They agitated, they demonstrated, and they went to jail, all with more-than-feminine vigor. The great conflict of 1914-18 halted the campaign—but brought a reward. British women got a real "peace treaty."

Cynics of this age, of course, tell us that the granting of the vote to the gentler sex in Britain and in other parts of the British Empire—excluding the women in our own province of Quebec in the provincial realm—has produced neither the miracles that its supporters prophesied nor the catastrophes which its opponents expected. It is nevertheless true that the female voter, like the male voter, often thinks so little about the privilege of the franchise that she has to be cajoled into exercising it.

However, even if, as on occasions is argued, democracy only gives to man the right to be his own oppressor, it is a right that has special value; for we are having grim reminders these days that there are degrees even in oppression. And we betide the government in any British country which sets out to amend its electoral law so that the woman voter would lose the right obtained for her by the pioneers who frequently got themselves damaged in demonstrations outside the Houses of Parliament—where their sisters are now contributing to the conduct of public business.

Scenic Timber

NOBODY EXPECTS THE PROVINCIAL authorities to embark on a policy of buying up private timber rights along the right-of-way of the West Coast Road; but it is gratifying to learn from Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, that all government-owned timber in the area in question has been reserved from sale. This is in line with the proposal submitted by the Chamber of Commerce, the object being to preserve all, or as much as possible, of the scenic beauty adjacent to the highway's route.

As Mr. Gray observes, moreover, it may be that certain strips of privately-owned timber which at present border the right-of-way could be exchanged for Crown property in areas in which logging operations would not disturb the beauty of the primitive scene. He will be able to judge the prospects of such "trades" when he has studied the map which officials of his department are now preparing of the blocks of timber alienated to private owners and those belonging to the Crown.

It is not necessary to repeat here the arguments supporting any policy to save this West Coast Road from the category of just a means of communication between one part of the island and another. When it is completed—and we still look forward to that final consummation—it ought to be possible to include it in the province's literature as an attraction for automobile tourists. If it shall come within this classification, of course, it will be that much more valuable as an asset in the utilitarian sense.

Says the War-time Premier

DOWN AT PWLLHELL IN HIS OWN Welsh constituency of Caernarvon yesterday, Mr. Lloyd George had a field day with the foreign policy of the Chamberlain government the object of his inimitable analysis. The principal burden of his complaint is that the government has been proceeding on three erroneous assumptions:

1. That Mussolini would not be faithful to the axis.
2. That General Franco would betray the dictators who had made possible his victory in Spain.
3. That Britain would have full control and command of all the Mediterranean.

The war-time Prime Minister is of the opinion—and the progress of recent events is on the record to support his contention—that before very long the Mediterranean may be virtually closed to British commerce and left at the sole mercy of the aggressor states. Like at least one or two members of the cabinet, Mr. Lloyd George does not trust the word of either of the dictators, and would give little heed to any promise they might make.

In a positive frame of mind, the dynamic statesman who heartened the British people in the dark days of the war, urged the government to reach, without delay, a definite military understanding which would link Britain, France and Russia, thus furnishing a solid alliance against which neither of the axis partners would launch a "fresh raid." He is quite certain, however, that Russia could not be attracted by any sort of argument unless she were assured that Britain and France "will act and not merely talk."

There is ample evidence, of course, that unless the two chief European democracies can induce enough countries to aid them in erecting a ring of steel round the dictator nations, the world still will experience a continuous series of alarms to disturb international business and fray the nerves of millions of peoples. And no "Stop Hitler" bloc can be really effective unless it includes as well as Poland, the Balkan states, Denmark, Holland, the Scandinavian countries, and most important of all, Soviet Russia.

Critics of Mr. Lloyd George may feel inclined to breathe the spirit of politics into his utterance at Pwllhell; but the fact remains that he has forgotten more about the moves on the international chess board than the present Prime Minister of Great Britain can ever hope to learn in the days that are left to him. And why should there be any hesitation in dealing with the Russia of today—with whom Britain has no quarrel—than with the Germany who continues to cause Mr. Chamberlain sleepless nights and anxious waking hours?

Psychiatric studies of children who start fires reveal that many are trying to purify evil things. Flaming youth burning his bridges behind.

The crusade against traffic deaths is going forward this year in earnest, spurred by the splendid results achieved last year. International Association of Police Chiefs reports an ingenious proposal. The idea is to embarrass reckless drivers by marking their cars, painting a yellow ring on the rear end of the offender's car after the first offence, a red ring after the second, a blue one after the third, each to remain 30 days.

JAIL OR GERMANY

From Vancouver Sun

There is a nice commentary upon internal conditions in Germany in the announcement that the notorious Grover Cleveland Bergdoll will return, after 19 years in Germany, to serve a jail sentence in the United States.

Bergdoll, as some will remember, is that German-American patriot who, being drafted into the American army during the World War, scuttled off to the Fatherland and took up residence there.

There is a five-year jail sentence hanging over his head for dodging the draft. Nevertheless, he is returning voluntarily to this continent and is expected to surrender to serve out his time.

Jail, for Bergdoll, must be preferable to Germany. And we are beginning to wonder how many other Germans feel the same way about it.

SIGNS

AT OUR LAKE, my most valued possession—apart from an ancient wheelbarrow and a flat-bottomed boat which the little boy from next door has appropriated and christened the Golden Dawn because it has a streak of yellow across the stern and, I fancy, through its soul—is a battered book of essays by G. K. Chesterton. I have read them so often that the absence of a few pages doesn't matter. I know what was on all the pages anyway, word for word.

The other night I was reading over again Chesterton's essay on London and Paris, in which he says that each of these two cities tells more about the character of the race that built it than all the literature and art and science of England and France. The cities, he says, talk by signs, and signs always mean more than speech.

The deaf-and-dumb language of architecture and design tells the story of French orderliness and brutal realism in the straight Paris boulevards, the careful planning of the whole city. Whereas the wandering chaos of London's streets, the cathedrals hidden behind jungles of chimney pots, the complete glorious plainness of the whole city, tells more perfectly than any words, the tolerant, easy-going, incurably romantic character of the British.

It is a thought which you might well apply to the cities of America. What do they tell by their signs, in the deaf-and-dumb language of architecture and design, in the outer appearance which is the reflection of the soul of the people who live in them? Alas, I fear the story is pretty grisly.

We in Victoria, perhaps, are an exception. Our signs, our gardens at least, speak of something decent, but most of them were made some time ago, and since then, I fancy, a deterioration of soul and intellect has set in. When a city rears up a monstrosity like that on Pandora Avenue, a phallic symbol of most obscene design, it is a pretty bad sign. It is the kind of sign which, in human beings, would call for the services of a psychoanalyst.

And when you see our country roads cluttered with the kind of hot dog stands and gas stations that are beginning to spring up all over British Columbia, that, too, is a disquieting sign. A sign of decay, I should think, like the rank highly-colored fungus growths that sprout upon mouldering logs and decomposing vegetable matter. The thoughtless, well-meaning man will suggest a law against such things, but probably that is useless. If these horrors are inside our collective civic nature, like the evil imaginings of an erotic person, they are bound to come out in some fashion, whether in hot dog stands, murders or seductions.

ABSURD SYSTEM

THE BRITISH POLITICAL system is definitely better than the improvement which the Americans have made upon it. You see the difference at a time like this when the American people are worrying about their next President. Down there the Democratic Party is split between the New Dealers and the Conservatives, there are deals and counter-deals in progress, the practical politicians are in full cry and probably the next President, like most of his predecessors, will be an accidental choice, for good or evil.

In a British country this could not occur. If the people wanted Roosevelt to continue in office they would keep him there, as we have kept Mackenzie King. They wouldn't be afraid of him becoming a dictator because they could get rid of him at any moment by voting him out in Parliament. But in the United States so powerful is the President, so independent of Congress and the people, that they dare not let him roost more than two terms in the White House lest he begin to think he owns it and thus become a tyrant.

So now you have the spectacle in the United States of about half the people at least wanting Roosevelt and less than a quarter wanting any other particular person, but Roosevelt must go. He can have no third term because of an aged legend. The American people, who like to think they are the shrewdest and hardest-boiled in the world, fall for more slogans and precedents than any British Tory.

PROGRESS REPORT

THE INCREDIBLE ADVENTURES of Thelma and Matthew continue to convulse this neighborhood. This is just a brief progress report so that you may know they are still well, despite a series of accidents which would have destroyed anything but a pair of goldfish.

When they closed up the camp after the Easter holidays at the lake, the little boy and girl from next door tenderly bottle Thelma and Matthew in a milk bottle full of water to carry them to town. They left the milk bottle on the veranda railing while they went off to replace a bullhead in the lake, from which it had been taken for sport, without serious intention to harm.

At this point Aunt Edith, bustling about the house, saw the milk bottle and poured out the water on her favorite fern at the back door. It was 15 minutes before the goldfish were missed and another five minutes before the deductive powers of the owners suggested to them that Thelma and Matthew had been poured out also. Their trembling corpses were discovered at last among the fern roots, looking very still and shiny, but after they had been replaced in another milk bottle they revived comfortably enough and started to blow up bubbles for fun. And thus they were carried to town in the front seat of my car.

The whole incident has alarmed Aunt Edith more than the goldfish. She is con-

China's Wild West Developing Under Stress of Conflict

What will happen next, now that China's wild west is being tamed under the stress of the Sino-Japanese war?

Geographers are curiously watching the speed with which China's western and southwestern provinces, comprising one of the main areas still under the Chinese government, are being invaded by schools, industries and millions of pioneers. The southwestern tableland of China, close to the Tibetan frontier, has been particularly isolated. About half of the 11,000,000 people of this rugged tableland in Yunnan and Kweichow provinces are Chinese; the rest are people of about 200 different tribes so primitive and independent that the Chinese often refer to them as barbarians.

Even if great waves of immigrants should move back eastward when war emergencies are over, China's west and southwest will never be the same, is the view of J. E. Spencer, argued in the Geographical Review of the American Geographical Society. Roads will remain, and some of the new industries and progressive developments are bound to last.

Whether industries developed as wartime projects will be profitable under peacetime conditions, Mr. Spencer cannot foresee. But it will have been proved, he declares, that native iron from Szechwan province can be made into fine steel products, that airplanes can be manufactured in Yunnan's capital city, Kunming, and that industrial chemicals can be produced in the west.

As almost none of the southwest's resources have been mortgaged or otherwise divided by concession among foreign interests," he points out, "they will constitute a valuable basis for native industrial growth." Yunnan, the far southwest corner of China, he considers fated to be most affected by the swift changes, now that its remoteness and non-Chinese population are no longer barriers to the exploitation of its resources. In event of a prolonged war, it is foreseen that the seat of government may be moved to this extreme inland corner of China, to the capital of Yunnan.

SUCCESS OF H.I.P. POINTS THE "WAY OUT"

From Financial Post
Figures quoted in the House of Commons by Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, as to the effect of the Home Improvement Plan in stimulating employment and purchasing in the construction field are illuminating. Total expenditure to March 15 amount to $25.3 millions. Of this amount 46 per cent went for masonry, carpentry, plastering; 24 per cent for plumbing and heating; 16 per cent for painting; 9 per cent for roofing; 5 per cent for electric wiring, mechanical equipment and installation. Approximately 16,175,000 man hours of labor have been provided. Almost $11,000,000 has been distributed directly as wages and other earnings in the building trades. The H. I. P. has been one of the most successful co-operative undertakings ever attempted in Canada during peace time under national direction and plan.

French Camp To Be Held at Shawnigan

A French vacation camp for adults from all parts of the North American continent will be held at Strathcona Lodge School, Shawnigan Lake, during the summer months.

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau was informed of plans for the camp in a letter received this morning from its organizers in St. Paul, Minn.

The bureau has also learned of arrangements for a one-day visit to Victoria on July 8 by members of the American Association of Nurserymen at the conclusion of their annual convention at Portland. The association has a membership of 700.

FLORAL CONTEST BEING ARRANGED

Junior Chamber to Hold Second Annual Window Competition May 3 to 6

A good response from Victoria merchants is expected by the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce for its second annual spring floral window decorating contest, which will be held from May 3 to May 6.

Entry forms can now be obtained from Norman Foster, secretary, at the junior chamber offices, Arcade Building. The contest, which attracted a good entry last year, is open to any type of business except florists. Entries must be in by April 29.

Only fresh flowers and plants are to be used in the displays. Painted scenes for backgrounds and merchandise may be used to fit into the decorative scheme. Judging will take place May 4, the displays to be judged on general effect, originality, simplicity and merchandise appeal.

The winning display will be awarded a trophy and a small cup. Second prize will be a cup and third prize silverware. Departmental stores will again decorate their windows, but have agreed not to become contestants.

The contest committee of the Junior Chamber is comprised of Travers Custance, chairman; Tommy Little and Cedric Le-fevre.

Sees Merit in Move To Amend Relief Law

A proposal emanating from the Canadian Conference of Mayors in Ottawa yesterday, to the effect that municipalities throughout Canada sponsor independent federal parliamentary candidates with the sole purpose of bringing about a revision in unemployment relief legislation "seemed like a good idea" to Mayor Andrew McGavin today.

The scheme, which would not be a question of party politics, would aim at relieving municipalities of the excessive costs of relief.

Mayor McGavin wished it thoroughly understood he was not willing to enter into a political fight on the issue, but thought the move to bring home to the federal government the need for revision of relief legislation a matter of some importance and benefit to cities throughout the country.

By-election Will Be Called Soon

Government to Hold Early Poll On Vancouver Centre Seat

An early by-election will be called by the British Columbia government in Vancouver Centre, the seat in the Legislature left vacant by the death of Alderman Fred Cronie, Premier Pattullo said today.

This announcement corrected an earlier impression that the government would delay the test until after the King's visit and the summer holidays.

Engagements of the Premier and other members of the cabinet for the summer and fall have brought about the decision to hold the poll soon. The Premier will be engaged with the Royal Visit, has arranged to go to the San Francisco fair in July and may also have to go east. Attorney-General Wismer, who is the first member for Vancouver Centre, may have to go to London in the fall on the gasoline case.

The Premier said the actual date for polling has not been settled. If the poll is called immediately, it can be within the next week or two, under provincial election rules. But if the order is delayed until after the Court of Revision next Monday, nomination day cannot be held until May 8 at the earliest. The requirement is that nomination day may not be less than 21 days after a court of revision.

Vancouver Centre is a two-seat constituency. Attorney-General Wismer and the late Mr. Cronie were elected for the riding in the general election of 1937.

While the by-election will have no particularly important bearing on the standing of parties in the House, it may prove an indicator for the next general election, which presumably will be in 1941. Vancouver Centre is a fairly representative constituency, midway between the Conservative elements of Point Grey and the radical thought of Vancouver East. It is one of the largest ridings in the province from a population standpoint.

The present standing in the Legislature is 31 Liberals, eight Conservatives, seven C.C.F., one Labor and one seat vacant.

CALIFORNIA OIL OPERATOR HERE

W. D. Calkins, who "owns stock in some of the largest oil-producing wells" in southern California, is at the Empress Hotel today on one of his frequent visits to Victoria.

"You have some good oil properties on this side of the border," Mr. Calkins said. "I'm not personally interested in the Turner Valley field, but I have plenty of friends who are," he added.

"There is a good market up here and I'm always glad to come to Victoria when I need relaxation from business."

Asked about the California oil situation, he said: "It's more guesswork, but we look for the market to level off, with supply and demand about equal, in 1942."

The Fairfield team was composed of Jimmy McKeachie, Don Fields, Graeme Scott, Jerry Horne, Irvine Scott, Dick Campbell and Ken Wells.

LAVER-YOUNG

St. John's Church was beautifully decorated with daffodils and Easter lilies for the wedding last night at 8:30 of Margaret Anna, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Young, 151 Battleford Avenue, and Stanley Victor Laver, youngest son of Mrs. E. J. Laver and the late Mr. W. J. Laver of 97 Howe Street.

Rev. G. R. V. Bolster performed the ceremony, and Mr. G. Jennings Burnett, church organist, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Miss Iris Smith sang the solo, "Because."

Mr. Young gave his daughter in marriage. She made a pretty picture in her wedding gown of white taffeta, the full skirt extending to a train. It was worn with a brief jacket with long sleeves, and her long filmy veil fell from a headpiece trimmed with white sweet peas. In place of the conventional bouquet, she carried a white prayer book with satin ribbons showered with tiny pink rosebuds and sweet peas.

Her sister, Mrs. W. H. Long, was matron of honor, wearing a floor-length frock of rose taffeta, with short-sleeved jacket and long net gloves to match. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a floral headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas. Mr. Jack Laver, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's mother, the rooms being massed with spring flowers. Mrs. Young, wearing a gown of navy blue crepe and hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of rosebuds, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Laver, mother of the groom, wearing a gown of black crepe with fine pin stripe, a black hat and a corsage bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

The supper table was prettily decorated with flowers and centred with the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Laver left on the midnight boat for Vancouver en route for a honeymoon trip in Washington and Oregon. The bride traveled in a brown tailored suit, with a beige coat and matching sailor hat. They will later make their home in Victoria.

Old-timers Will Mark Diamond Wedding

Former Postmaster And Mrs. Bishop 'At Home' Friday

Two well-known Victoria residents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Bishop, 1122 Greenwood Avenue, will celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary tomorrow. They will hold a family reunion dinner, after which they will be "at home" to their friends from 8 to 10:30.

Mrs. Bishop was formerly Miss Smelala Jane Clyde. She was born in Huntingdon, Quebec, and came to Victoria with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Clyde, in December, 1874. Mr. Bishop was born in Portsmouth, England, and came to Victoria in 1870, leaving Southampton on the S.S. Shannon three days before the Franco-Prussian War commenced. With his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Bishop, he arrived at Esquimalt, via the Isthmus of Panama and San Francisco, in September, 1870.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop were married at New Westminster by Rev. Thos. Derrick on April 14, 1879, and have been residents of Victoria ever since. As Miss Clyde, Mrs. Bishop was the first organist of the original First Baptist Church here, and has always been an active church worker and is a charter member of Queen City Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, the Order of the Amaranth and the Rebekahs, I.O.O.F.

For many years Mr. Bishop was associated both with the C.P.R. and C.N.R. and held the position of postmaster from 1914 to 1928. He was the representative for the government armisties in the post office until his retirement. He served on the City Council as alderman and was a schoolmaster.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should the wife of a physician refer to her husband as "the doctor" when talking with acquaintances?
2. Should a host let himself get into a heated argument with a guest?
3. Is it good manners to interrupt another person in order to add something to his story?
4. Does the use of coarse language indicate sophistication?
5. If you know a servant in a friend's home, should you say, "Good morning, Mary" when she opens the door for you?

What would you do if—

Someone makes several statements which you are sure are not based on fact—

(a) Challenge the statements?

(b) Say, "You're talking through your hat?"

(c) Let them pass?

A meeting of the ladies' auxiliary of the Victoria Musical Festival Association was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Reginald Cox. Conveners in charge reported a large number of ladies willing to assist during the musical festival in the roles of hall managers, platform stewards, program sellers, ticket takers, etc. Members of the auxiliary agreed to phone holders of last year's membership tickets, reminding them of the festival dates and hoping for their continued support this year. The schoolroom was prettily decorated with mauve and yellow streamers and daffodils. Games, under the direction of Queenie Waters, were thoroughly enjoyed. Colored crepe paper and pins were handed out and all set about to create for themselves an Easter bonnet. Miss Josephine Cook was awarded the prize for her style-leading creation. Groups B and C were victorious in a game of charades, while the boys proved themselves superior to the girls in a game of "Naughts and Crosses."

Harold Gonasson took the prize for remembering correctly the greatest number of objects passed around the room. A skit entitled "An Easter Ride" was performed by Gwen Whitehouse, Dorothy Howard, Queenie Waters, Len Canon, Mun Hope and George Davis. Refreshments were served and members of the board were welcomed by the vice-president, Bill Lewis. Decoration and refreshments committees were headed by Helen Robinson and Ken Priestley, respectively. Next week there will be a debate by groups A and D.

Freakish Hats Not Selling Well

Hat Manufacturer Bemoans Fate; Quotes Complaints

ST. LOUIS (AP)—You've probably already noticed—women's hats have become even more peculiar this spring. That's the consensus of most men, and hat manufacturer Jack Page agrees. Let him relate a few of his worries:

"Sales gone up? I should say not!"

"Even the retailers don't like them."

"Just try selling these hats in small towns in Illinois, Missouri or Kansas."

"Salesgirls open a box of hats, take one look and burst out laughing—after 37 years in the millinery business."

"One customer writes: 'They're hardest to wear and most difficult to sell. We've come to the conclusion that if we cannot offer some sensible hats we would rather not wear ourselves out trying to sell them and lose money too.'"

At Centennial W.M.S. Easter thankoffering service on Monday, Miss M. Mossop, of the Oriental Home staff, spoke of Chinese and Japanese girls trained in the Home here, how worthwhile is the work of the Oriental Home and the Women's Missionary Societies which make it possible. The president, Mrs. M. Elder, and Mrs. J. D. Wilson conducted the worship service. Mrs. A. E. Farquhar recited an Easter poem "Thirty-three Years" by Grace Crowell. Tea was served by Mrs. Musgrave, Mrs. J. Cox and helpers.

GARDEN CITY

At the week-end practice of the Wilkinson Road and Garden City United Church choirs Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fryatt were recipients of tokens of appreciation and esteem on the part of the women's association and congregation of Garden City church. Mr. Fryatt was presented with a handsome copy of the church hymnary and Mrs. Fryatt, president of the association for many years, was presented with a pot of lilies.

Among the earliest timepieces in the world were candles. King Alfred of England, who reigned in the 9th century, regulated his work at night by means of a candle marked with hour intervals.

B.C. Ruggers Take Opener

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

THE SCOFFERS who said it couldn't be done are backing water furiously.

"Fifteen feet in the pole vault? Don't be absurd!" they had said, and it wasn't so many years ago, either.

"A 7-foot high jump—ridiculous!"

They also added "impossible," "nonsense," and various other things denoting the finality and folly of the whole thing.

But they had been saying the same about the 14-foot vault mark, too, until Charley Hoff and Sabin Carr came along. Harold Osborne convinced them the high jump ceiling was way beyond 6 feet 6 inches.

And now the two young men who hold the world records for the pole vault and high jump tell us—and convincingly—that 15 and 7 feet are not more than a year off. Might possibly be reached this summer under the right conditions.

Earle Meadows, coholder of the world record of 14 feet 11 inches with Bill Sefton, his former teammate at Southern California, was asked just what constituted "perfect" conditions for the pole vault.

The slender, curly-haired, one-time Trojan smiled. "Well—first of all a nice, hot day, little wind, a good runway, and a good meet with competition including George Varoff, Cornellum Warmerdam, Loring Day, Dick Garslen, Milt Padway—and a guy named Meadows."

"That," he concluded, "would just about be your guarantee of a 15-foot vault."

At present Meadows also holds the world indoor standard—a mark of 14 feet 6½ inches established recently at the Chicago Relays. Although he teaches social science in a junior high school at Uplands, Calif., he has plenty of time to train—and concentrate on that new ceiling.

It was in May, 1937, in the Pacific Coast Conference meet that Meadows and Sefton—who has retired from competition—soared over the bar at 14 feet 11 inches.

"That one inch difference may be a tough one—or it may be a breeze," Meadows points out. "Once one of us gets up as high as 14 feet 10 or 11—and going hot—he'll more than barely clear the mark if he's successful on his 15-foot effort."

"This could easily be the peak year for the boys I've mentioned. Next year is an Olympic year and they'll be more careful about overwork and overstrain. And incidentally, watch this boy Loring Day from Southern Cal—he's going to be up there some day."

Yet the world record-holder gives the impression that if anyone will hit that 15-foot mark it'll be "that guy named Meadows."

His is the ideal build for the pole vaulter. The Californian is an even 6 feet, weighs 170 pounds, has strong arms and shoulders and manages a terrific lift.

"It takes plenty out of you," he admits, "to haul yourself into the air at better than 14 feet." And yet he points out that a vaulter takes as many as 10 vaults a meet.

Two years ago Mel Walker, former Ohio State high-jumping star, sailed over the bar at 6 feet 10½ inches in Sweden while touring with an American A.A.U. squad. It was a new world record, but shortly afterward in practice he hit 6 feet 11.

"That mark is unofficial, of course," says Walker, "but it convinces me that 7 feet is closer than you think."

"Good jumpers like to push the bar up 2 inches at a time. Well, one of these days Dave Albritton or Gil Cruter or myself—or maybe even that kid, Les Steers on the coast—will go sailing over that 6-8 mark by a good 2 or 3 inches."

"Right away he's going to have it shoved up to 6-10. He'll make that, and when he does he'll be having a margin going over that bar. Enough of a margin to make him feel he can shove it up two (Turn to Page 16, Col. 3)

Touring Squad Turns Back University of California Bears 19 to 16

SAN FRANCISCO — British Columbia's touring English rugby players were looking for fresh fields to conquer today, following their great 19 to 16 victory over University of California Bears yesterday in the opening game of their southern invasion.

Although they only reached here the day before, the Canadians showed no signs of travel weariness and their exhibition against the Bears promises as a tough time for the clubs in the remaining three matches of the tour.

Saturday, in the Treasure Island Stadium, the Canadians will meet the once-defeated Stanford University team. The succeeding Wednesday, the visitors will face the University of San Francisco Dons, and Saturday, April 22, they play an all-star team composed of players from all three universities.

The lead-changed hands four times during the game, with the Canadians holding a 10 to 5 edge at the half. The Californians went into a 16 to 15 lead in the last few minutes but an intercepted pass by Goepel and a passing attack involving Biddle, Murdock, Payne and Carney, paved the way for a British Columbia field goal which proved the winning effort.

OPENING TRY

The Californians started things going with a passing rush by Dickey, Warren, Juch and Hutters, which ended in a try by forward Pete Youdall. A conversion by Granger put the Bears ahead 5 to 0 but a Canadian try by Payne and conversion by Grogan tied the game at 5 to 5.

A passing rush, Grogan to Barber to Forbes set up another Canadian try by Payne. Grogan again converted, making the score and gave the invaders a 10 to 5 lead at the end of the first half.

Opening the second half, half-back Bob Juch provided one of the game's highlights with a 45-yard runback of an intercepted pass. His lateral was taken by Williams who crossed the goal line untouched. Granger missed the conversion. A passing rush to Williams netted the Bears another try. Granger made the conversion from a difficult angle.

A last minute Canadian rally sent Carney over for a try with Grogan converting, making the score 16 to 15 for the Californians.

A California pass intercepted by Goepel, and a passing rush to Biddle, Murdock, Payne and Carney paved the way for a dropped kicked goal by five-eighths back George Biddle.

The game ended a few seconds later as the Canadians staved off a desperate California rally.

Roamers Lose Again

Edmonton Takes 12 to 4 Setback in Second Memorial Cup Hockey Game

TORONTO (CP)—Edmonton Roamers have been tried and found wanting. And today there was no one, not even the Roamers, who held more than the slightest of hopes the 1939 Memorial Cup final would be forced past the minimum three games.

Writing new chapters into the glorious history of the junior hockey classic, Oshawa Generals walloped the western champions so soundly last night in the second game of the best-of-five series that Edmonton's strongest supporters gave up. There for to win, Roamers couldn't keep him in check and the blond pivot scored Generals' first goal and set up the play for Orv Smith's counter after the score was tied.

Before he was through, Billy The Kid shot four goals and made perfect plays for five others. Such hockey veterans as Conny Smythe and Lester Patrick, National League managers, shook their heads in amazement. Soon, it is expected, Taylor will join Smythe's Toronto Maple Leafs.

Leafs Bring Up Red Heron and Don Metz For Hockey Game With Boston Tonight

TORONTO (CP)—Having patched up a couple of spots on his secondary forward lines, manager Conny Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs worked today on his first line in hopes he could restore its high-scoring efficiency for tonight's Stanley Cup meeting with the boiling Bruins of Boston.

Smythe selected Red Heron from the Syracuse farm club yesterday to replace Harvey Jackson, who suffered a dislocated shoulder when the Leafs lost the third game of the finals to the Bruins Tuesday. He named Don Metz, Toronto amateur until two days ago, to work instead of Pete Langelle, who took quite a beating in the first three games of hockey's world title round.

Those replacements seemed to leave the Leafs in pretty fair shape up front according to actual man-power. But there still was to be taken into consideration the fact the No. 1 line of Syl Apps, Gordon Drillon and Bob Davidson hasn't been carrying the mail in this round. The trio has been handcuffed by the Bruins.

TALKS TO STARS

So Smythe called Apps and Drillon aside when they appeared together in the dressing room and told them something he had noticed Tuesday night. "Your plays weren't getting away properly," the little colonel said. "Every time one started, the puck seemed to be in possession of the wrong man."

Meanwhile the Bruins are continuing to dominate the series. (Turn to Page 16, Col. 3)

Spencers Take Pendray Trophy

McBride's Goal in Overtime Gives Store Eleven 3 to 2 Win Over Navy

The lad who is the "apple of the eye" of members of Spencer's football club today is Malcolm McBride, smart inside right, for it was he who made it possible for the Diamond S's to keep in the running for the midweek soccer championship yesterday when his goal after 25 minutes of the overtime gave the storemen a 3 to 2 verdict over Manager Pemberton's Navy squad.

This battle was fought at Beacon Hill before the largest crowd—estimated at close to 500—of the season, and the outcome gave the departmentals the prized Pendray Cup and advanced them to meet the sailors in a sudden-death skirmish for the league crown. This game will probably be played next Wednesday.

If the Navy had won yesterday it would have given them the Pendray Cup and the championship as well.

It was anybody's game right up to the close and although goal soccer was lacking there was lots of excitement to hold the interest of the rival bands of supporters on the sidelines.

The score was deadlocked at 2 to 2 at the end of regulation time, Spencer's tricky Shorty Collins knowing the count at 2 to 2 with only eight minutes of play remaining. Following Les Bradley's throw-in from the sidelines there was a scramble in front of the Navy posts and centre-forward Collins toed the ball past Bill Mundle, the goalie.

In first-half play the naval bluejackets literally ran rings around the Spencer brigade, which couldn't do a thing right. There was no teamwork whatsoever in Spencer's play. There was mis-kicking, poor passing and all raids were easily crushed by full-backs Briggs and McDonald, except for the three times Bobby Brown got into scoring position, but his shots were wild. Navy had the lion's share of territorial play and their teamwork was much better than the opposition's. Only the fact Spencer had a sound defence stopped the sailors from bagging more than one goal in this canto. This came after 10 minutes, Wilf DeCosta beating Red McMillan with a nice angle drive. Half-time score stood 1 to 0 for the Navy.

FIGHTING SPIRIT

Although Spencer's brand of football was never very good on the day's play, they came back strong with all that old store fighting spirit in the second 45 minutes and held the leather in enemy territory most of the time. The defence held the Diamonds off for 19 minutes before they finally succeeded in sagging the hemp for the equalizer, McBride kicking from the flag. Shortly after, Collins, with nobody but the goalie, Mundle, to beat, missed the goal completely.

Thirteen minutes later, during one of the Navy attacks, Wilf DeCosta fired a hot cross shot at Spencer's goal and the ball slammed into the inside of the opposite post and bounded over the goal line. At this point the hard-fighting store crew turned on the heat again and three minutes later fired in the tieing marker, Collins doing the toe work. That goal got quite a reception from the large crowd of store fans. Almost immediately after the kickoff McBride's bullet drive hit the post with Mundle out of the goal. Percy Sand's saved by kicking for a corner kick. Navy's Alec Ross failed to score on a penalty kick in this half.

Although quite tired, players on both sides kept the pace hot in the overtime and although both goalies had some narrow escapes, the score was still in the same knot at the change-over.

Ten minutes later McBride piled in the leather that gave the Diamond S's victory and revived their chances of taking the mid-week supremacy laurels.

Joe Obee refereed.

Cage Caners

By T. F.

Winnipeg St. Andrews will have to do a powerful lot of homework this afternoon, to-night, tomorrow morning, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow evening if they hope to make any impression on our Dominoes tomorrow night. Last night's exhibition would certainly indicate a vast difference between prairie brand basketball and the type played on the coast.

For the first time in our lives we saw the crowd start to leave its seats before the final whistle blew. John Public was slightly bored. The only man we could see with any real enthusiasm was Reeve Alex Lockley of Esquimalt. "Surely you're not worrying about losing, Reeve?" we asked at the half-time interval. "No, but if our Dominoes get into a rut and don't speed up the game it's going to be bad to get started if they meet real opposition in the finals" was the sound reply.

What a disappointment that Lieutenant-Governor Hamber had to see such a poor exhibition in his first game of basketball. "Well, he may not know any difference if he hasn't seen a game before" somebody remarked near us. "Yes, but what a thrill if he had seen games like the series with the Westerns" was our contention.

Hank Rowe, Busher Jackson, Bert Davies, Roy Taylor, John Mylrea and Gordon Patterson were playing for their first time in a western Canadian final. Rowe made his debut as a memorable one by leading the local sharpshooters with 15 points.

To Busher Jackson went honors for scoring the first point of the final. The Busher ran in the first three baskets for Dominoes. Jack Tomes scored the first Winnipeg basket. Hank Rowe scored the first free shot and Ed Smith, Winnipeg guard, was first to sink a longshot, his throw coming from midcourt. The first foul against Dominoes was called on Bert Davies but Jack Carmichael missed both shots.

It looked as though Art Chapman was going to have a bad night the way he started out, throwing the ball everywhere but to his teammates, but a few words from brother Chuck soon settled him down. Chuck incidentally, turned in his usual stellar game at guarding the home hoop and broke up many threatening rush by St. Andrews.

Coach Bert Oja was apparently pretty worried about the exhibition of his boys. He called a practice at the Willows for first thing this morning.

The new floor was certainly an improvement. Here's hoping the city keeps it as a permanent court for indoor games. There were few spots from where the whole game could not be seen. Anybody who sat behind the backboards of the baskets might have had a little trouble but the glass backboards which the Dominoes will install, possibly before the Canadian final, will settle that difficulty.

Once again no complaints on the refereeing. We thought Ralph Thomas, Vancouver, left most of the work to Tim McCulloch. Seattle, during the first half. The slowness of the game was evident from the fact McCulloch didn't even appear overwarm when it was over. In the B.C. finals he was worn out as the players.

Congrats to the Victoria crowd for the nice hand they gave Winnipeg as the team took the floor and the way they encouraged the boys during the game. It was a pleasant change after the attitude during the finals with Westerns, although we couldn't venture a guess on the reception for the visitors if the game had been a close one.

This humble observer believes the Peggers can speed their (Turn to Page 16, Col. 3)

Victoria Champs Take Game Lead in Western Canada Basketball Final

Faced by gangling Hank Rowe with 15 points Victoria Dominoes smashed through Winnipeg St. Andrews 42 to 26 in the first game of the western Canada senior men's basketball final at the Willows last night before a crowd of over 2,000. The British Columbia champions forged into an 8 to 0 lead in the opening minutes of play and were never headed.

Outweighed and at a decided disadvantage in height the Manitoba titleholders, winners over the champions of Saskatchewan and Alberta in the western play-downs, after getting within one point of the Dominoes early in the second quarter, were never in the picture.

Unless St. Andrews can show a decided improvement in the second game scheduled Friday night the Dominoes are certain to capture the best-of-three series in straight games. Winners of the series act as hosts to the eastern champions in the Canadian finals.

Before play opened last night His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber, who has donated a perpetual trophy for the western Canada championship, welcomed the Winnipeg team to British Columbia. In his remarks the Lieutenant-Governor declared he was a resident of British Columbia but was a native-born Winnipegger, and his sympathies were divided. He was then introduced to the players of both clubs and tossed up the ball to start play. The Lieutenant-Governor was introduced by Mayor Andrew McGavin.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

Dominoes outscored Winnipeg in every quarter except the third, when the scoring was kept low. St. Andrews pushing home six points to four for the home club. At the end of the first quarter it was 11 to 4 in favor of the Victoria team. They had built up a 25 to 10 margin at the half and were out in front 29 to 16 at three-quarter time.

Dominoes scored 17 field baskets as compared to 11 for Winnipeg. Out of 17 free shots the Victoria team converted eight, while the visitor's average was four out of nine. A total of 20 personal fouls were called, Winnipeg drawing 12. Only one player left the floor on personals, St. Andrews losing Ed Smith with less than two minutes of play remaining.

It was a clean game, majority of fouls being for minor infractions. There was an absence of heavy checking.

Winnipeg had trouble all night getting in close for shots. Dominoes played a stiff man-to-man defence and with their advantage in height were able to keep the invaders well out. Dominoes had control of all the jumps and bagged the majority of rebounds off both backboards.

Opening the game with the two Chapmans, Chuck and Art, Busher Jackson, Bert Davies and Rowe, the Dominoes lost no time getting out in front. Three quick baskets by Jackson and a fourth by Chuck Chapman put the home club ahead 8 to 0. Jack Tomes dropped through the first Winnipeg basket after 8 minutes 15 seconds. The quarter ended with the Dominoes leading 11 to 4.

GET WITHIN POINT

Winnipeg started a drive with the opening of the second quarter and three quick baskets by Smith, Jack Carmichael and Tomes put them within one point of the Dominoes 11 to 10. The British Columbia champions started one of their famous power drives, and with Rowe and Jackson pumping the ball through the hoop, moved ahead 25 to 10 at halftime.

Throughout the second half the Dominoes appeared to let down, being content to hold their lead and keep control of the ball as much as possible. Because he was suffering from a cold, Jackson (Turn to Page 16, Col. 3)

"DAUGHTER" OF THE REGIMENTS!

The Crimean War introduced cigarettes to Englishmen. Some tales have it that the soldiers were so badly off for everything, including pipes, that they rolled in cartridge paper any tobacco they could beg, or any dried leaves that would smoke. Certainly they were in a desperate plight. Legend has it that Florence Nightingale, as she walked the hospital wards, lamp in hand on her ceaseless errand of mercy, would light the cigarettes of the sick and wounded.

But it was the Great War which taught the world the convenience of the cigarette and made it everybody's smoke. One army commander reported to his war office, "Tobacco is as indispensable as the daily ration; we must have thousands of tons of it without delay".

To supply the demand for cigarettes and other forms of tobacco, Canada has built up a great industry—tobacco growing, manufacturing, distributing—an industry which is a vital factor in this country's progress and prosperity.

Delegates to the conference will draw up plans for a campaign to have more coal used. Union officers said quantities of domestic coal could be used instead of foreign fuel oil in railways and government buildings.

At the present time, President Livett and Secretary Morrison of United Mine Workers, District 18, which includes most western Canada coalfields, are in Ottawa urging the government to make changes in its fuel policy to aid the industry.

The delegates from the Nanaimo local are: President T. Webb, Vice-president Thomas Ostle, Recording Secretary P. Lawson, Secretary-treasurer E. Boyd, J. Wilson, J. White, D. Radford, D. Armand, J. Forsythe and A. Mawhinney. Cumberland will be represented by President R. Coe, Vice-president D. Tweedhope, Recording Secretary J. SYMPHONY DEBUT SUCCESS Audience Enthusiastic At First Appearance of New Musical Organization

By G. J. D.

In the history of Victoria's musical life there have been from time to time efforts put forth to organize a symphony orchestra.
During the past decade or so these point more particularly to Alfred Prescott in philharmonic orchestral concerts, others to Francis Gratian and William Tickle, but these came and went,
each with its own concert or concerts. Nothing permanent in this direction remained.

During the past season Alfred Prescott got together the nucleus of a symphony orchestra and the orchestra, known as the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, came to life, with its founder, Mr. Prescott, as director, and Fay Ockenden acting as concertmaster.

Last evening at the Royal Victoria the orchestra made its initial appearance before a large and evidently much pleased audience, who throughout spared not their enthusiastic demonstrations of delight.

FIFTY INSTRUMENTALISTS
The orchestra comprises over 50 instrumentalists for the greater part made up of those who have reached their present musical status by keen and earnest studiousness, obtained entirely in the city. With these circumstances, combined with the fact of the orchestra's first bow to a local public, it is scarce
the occasion to account for anything other than that which is rightly due to all concerned, namely, praise and eulogy, also to know that the occasion marked a memorable evening with symphonic music of our own making, which, it is hoped, is only the forerunner of a series of public performances in the days that are yet to be.

THE PROGRAM
Altogether the program was popular, if a trifle ambitious, as it has the possibility of setting a standard which may not always be easy of attainment. It opened with the overture, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," by Otto Nicolai, composer and conductor greatly esteemed in his day. The overture, based on themes from the opera, soon established itself in the orchestral repertoire, and has held its place there ever since.

Following in order were the beautiful flowing Bach "Arioso," Beethoven's most famous symphony, "The Mighty Fifth," in C minor; the Grieg Piano Concerto in A minor, surprisingly well achieved, in which the soloist was Helen Ockenden, always competent and reliable. She met with storms of applause and many recalls to the platform with the conductor, the members of the orchestra standing the while, concluding with the beautiful "Emperor" waltz, by the "Waltz King," Johann Strauss, and the tone-poem, "Finlandia," by the Finnish composer Sibelius, each receiving prolonged and enthusiastic applause, which must have considerably

Dietrich Star In Plaza Film

Weird Orient Setting
Background for
"Shanghai Express"

A weird Oriental setting, a background of savage, barbaric warfare and a clever story all combine to make "Shanghai Express," which opened today at the Plaza Theatre, one of the most effective pictures Marlene Dietrich ever made.

Directed by Josef von Sternberg, director of many of Miss Dietrich's early successes, the film has a talented cast which includes Clive Brook, Anna May Wong, Warner Oland, Eugene
Pallette, Louise Closser Hale,
Gustav von Seyffertitz and Emile Chautard. The film is based on a story by Harry Hervey, noted authority on Oriental life and customs.

The story concerns the Shanghai Lily (Marlene Dietrich), a famous adventuress, and Capt.
Harvey, medical officer (Clive Brook), who take passage on the Shanghai Express in spite of the fact that a raid on it has been threatened by Chinese bandit rebels.

"Billy the Kid"
Columbia Show

Music lovers will find plenty to enjoy in the new Republic picture "Billy the Kid Returns," co-starring Roy Rogers and Smiley Burnette, which opens today at the Columbia Theatre.

This fast-moving western film has seven songs worked into the plot. Six of them were written by Eddie Cherkose, a young song writer who recently went to Hollywood and wrote his way into a long-term contract at Republic.

"Born to the Saddle," "Give Me
the Range," "When the Sun Is Setting on the Prairie," "Dixie Sales Song," "Sing a Little Song" and "Trail Blazin'" are all by Cherkose, and "When I Camped

Will Ask Embargo
On Raw Materials

Victorians interested in the promotion of peace and the prevention of war will be asked to sign a petition addressed to Rt. Hon.
W. L. Mackenzie King requesting that an embargo be placed on the shipment from Canada of war materials to aggressor nations.

"All peace-lovers of both Canada and the United States are realizing that without the raw materials of these two great de-mocracies no nation can carry on a war of any consequence and bring death and destruction to innocent millions, and are demanding that our contribution to the war aims of other countries be stopped," a sponsor of the petition said this morning. "The Embargo Council of Victoria has arranged for space in the fruit and vegetable stores on Saturday, April 15, throughout the city, where all may have an opportunity of affixing their signatures to this petition and thus convey to the government what they feel about Canada loading the guns of aggressor nations."

In the past generation, Canada's immigrants have come from so many sources that the melting pot there is almost as varied as in the United States.

"Sergeant Madden"
Dominion Booking

A "Dead End" kid who preferred to remain with the road tour of the celebrated play rather than join the rest of the kids
when they headed for Hollywood, makes his appearance as a featured player "on his own" in "Sergeant Madden," starring
Wallace Beery at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow. David Gorcey, brother of Leo Gorcey, who originated the role of "Spit" in the Sidney Kingsley drama, worked as understudy for several of the boys while the play was on the boards.

He plays the role of a young thief, brother of a gangster's sweetheart, in "Sergeant Madden."

"The Citadel" based on the novel by Dr. A. J. Cronin, has been brought to the screen in a notable picture which opened today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer produced this film at its British studio in Denham, England, with Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell in the leading roles. A cast of more than 100 players appears in support, principal among them the well-known English players,
Ralph Richardson, Rex Harrison,
Emlyn Williams and Penelope Dudley-Ward.

The dramatic story of a young and obscure physician in the Welsh collieries is revealed on the screen with all the emotional power of Cronin's outstanding novel.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Hollywood has officially and publicly paid homage to 16-year-old Deanna Durbin, whose latest Universal success, "Three Smart

showing at the Capitol Theatre.

At the 11th annual Motion Picture Academy Awards banquet, Deanna was presented with a special statuette, her first acaderied the following inscription:

"To Deanna Durbin and Mickey Rooney for their significant contribution in bringing to the screen the spirit and personification of youth, and as juvenile players setting a high standard of ability and achievement."

Nurses' Picture
Coming to Atlas

Hospital life as viewed from the eyes of a nurse is revealed in a stirring new picture coming to the Atlas Theatre tomorrow for a two-day showing. It is "Four Girls in White," with the four nurses of the title played by Florence Rice, Una Merkel, Ann Rutherford and Mary Howard, and the man in the case enacted
by Alan Marshal.

Specifically, the story deals with a girl who decides to become a nurse as a means to a profitable marriage and what happens to her to make her a heroine rather than a selfish schemer.

Building an Ocean Liner

4—PROPELLERS AND RUDDERS

To "propel" means to "drive forward," and that is what a boat's propeller does. It pushes against the water, and makes the boat go forward. An airplane propeller works against air to make the plane move.

A propeller may have two, three or four blades. In turning swiftly, it gathers a great deal of power.

Men beside giant propellers and rudder of ocean liner.

A steamer may have only one propeller, but usually it has at least two. Big ocean liners are fitted with four.

How small a man looks beside the propeller of a super-liner! Such a propeller may be 20 feet wide. One great vessel has four gigantic propellers, each with four blades and each weighing 35 tons.

Large as the propellers may be they do not compare in size or in weight with the rudder. The rudder of a liner is a big piece of metal used in steering. Without it the vessel would be helpless on the ocean, and would be turned this way or that by winds and waves. It would be something like an automobile with a steering wheel which did not work.

A steamer's rudder is much higher than it is wide. It may be as high as a four-story building! One modern boat has a rudder which weighs 140 tons, equal to the combined weight of 35 large-size elephants.

We might suppose it would be hard to turn a rudder of such size but the pilot has no trouble. He can turn it with "a touch of the finger." Really he does not do the work of turning; he may move the wheel, but sets machinery in motion to do the rest. Modern liners often are fitted with "iron mikes." When these are set, they can steer a course without the human pilot being near.

When I speak of the "iron mike" doing the steering, I want to make it plain that seamen do not leave it and go to dinner! There always is someone on the bridge of the ship, usually several men. They may set the iron mike, and make it do the work of steering, but they stay on the lookout. They watch the sea ahead. They watch the charts. They study weather reports received by wireless telegraph or by radio. They telephone orders to the engine-room.

Many vessels have gyroscopes with giant wheels which turn in a certain way. The gyroscopes help keep ships from rolling in a storm, and in that way are kind to people in danger of growing seasick.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, APRIL 14, 1939 -- This should be one of the red-letter days of spring, according to astrology. Benefic aspects strongly rule men and women.

Both labor and capital are well directed under this planetary government which encourages understanding and cordial co-operation.

The configuration stimulates enterprise and confidence. Investments in business enterprises will be greatly increased as new inventions create new industries.

Food problems will be much in the public mind. Farmers will benefit through exports. Fruit culture will assume extraordinary importance, it is forecast.

There is a sign warning motorists to be extremely careful. Accidents this evening may be expected. Airplane travel is to be more popular than ever, and the stars seem to promise safety in transportation of great numbers of travelers.

Representatives of Royalty and nobility in extraordinary numbers will visit Canada during the coming summer.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of steady progress toward coveted goals. Both men and women will enjoy added incomes.

Children born on this day probably will be extraordinarily bright in intellect and active in body. These subjects of Aries gain success in army, navy and aviation service. Girls should be lucky all through their lives.

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"Come up here quick, dear—blossoms!"

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—We have a boy almost 18 who has been going with a girl about his age. She is as nice a girl as you can find and from a well-respected family, but thinking he is so young we have broken them up. Since then he is blue, disheartened, dissatisfied and doesn't seem to care for other things, not even girls, and now he has started to drinking and running with wild boys. Should we let him go back to his girl and be happy, or should we keep them apart?

WORRIED PARENTS.

Answer: There are times when parents should climb down from their know-it-all pedestal and apologize to their children and confess that they have been wrong in their judgments and have made mistakes. And this is what you should do as soon as possible to your son.

Don't be afraid that it will lower you in his esteem. It will exalt you to the skies, because it will give you the human touch with him and make him realize that what you did was motivated by love for him and desire for his well-being, not to exercise a petty tyranny over him.

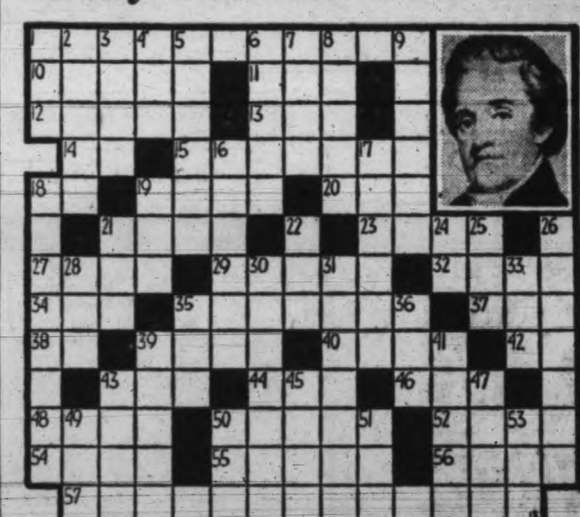

I urge you to act quickly because your boy is in mortal danger. A lad of his age is bound to have pleasure, companionship, something interesting and thrilling to do all the time. He must play around with girls. He isn't going to sit around home of an evening and read an improving book, or talk to papa and mamma. He is going out to find diversion for himself. And it is heaven's own mercy if he doesn't get in with the wrong kind of a gang and with some wild girl instead of the nice girl with whom he wasn't permitted to go.

It is easy to understand why fathers and mothers, to whom their young son still seems a baby, should object to his going "steady" with any one girl. They are afraid that he may take his calf love for the real thing and run off and get married. So he might, but that doesn't very often happen. Usually the affair just wears out, or perishes of anemia when the children are sent off to school, or the boy goes to work. But, anyway, it is far less of a hazard than trying to keep a boy entirely away from girls.

As a matter of fact, there is no greater safeguard or better education for a boy than a bread-and-butter romance with a nice girl. Her influence is for good and she is the best known protection against bad women. More than that, she civilizes and refines the young cub and teaches him the principles of gentlemanliness. The first indication that love has begun to flower in a boy's heart is when he begins voluntarily washing behind his ears, blacking his shoes and wearing a clean collar. Lucky is the boy who first learns about women from some nice girl, and foolish are the parents who break up such a friendship.

Washington Plans Royal Fireworks

The State of Washington, through Governor Clarence D. Martin, is giving serious consideration to a fireworks display at Port Angeles on May 29 or 30 as a salute to the King and Queen on their arrival in Victoria.

Alderman Davies was informed of plans for the display across the straits by Thos. G. Hitt, fireworks manufacturer, who stated the proposal had been received with enthusiasm by the governor of the northwest state.

Arrangements, he said, were being made to stage the show at a time when it would be visible by their Majesties while at Government House here.

Make 11,000-Mile Motorcycle Trip

George Wellburn, Victoria, and Jack Buckham, Duncan, Circle United States

With an 11,000-mile trip on a motorcycle in 54 days behind them, George Wellburn, Victoria, and Jack Buckham, Duncan, both members of the Victoria Motorcycle Club, say that they would start off and do it again any day.

"We even gained 10 pounds apiece," said Wellburn in telling of the trip.

The 11,000 miles included an outlining of the United States' ocean boundaries—down the Pacific coast, across the southern extremities of the country to the Gulf of Mexico and up the Atlantic seaboard.

Deciding to make the trip three days before hand, Wellburn and Buckham ferried to Port Angeles on February 15 and started off on the latter's motorcycle—a Harley Davidson 74—for southern points. They arrived home last Sunday.

100 POUNDS BAGGAGE
Two suitcases were strapped on both sides of the back wheel of the machine and piled on top of the mudguard were sleeping bags—a total of nearly 100 pounds in weight of baggage. A double seat was fitted to the motorcycle and the two took turns, every 50 miles, in driving.

"It took us two and a half days to hit San Francisco," Wellburn said, "and we spent three at the exposition, taking in all the sights."

From San Francisco they went south to Los Angeles and then to San Diego.

"The jump from Long Beach to San Diego was the prettiest part of the trip," Wellburn remarked.

From San Diego they branched eastward for Phoenix, Arizona, then passed on to New Mexico, crossing the border at El Paso, Texas, into Mexico. From there they went to San Antonio, Texas, and continued on to New Orleans.

"We had some funny experiences in those southern states," Wellburn continued. "Time after time in places where we stopped, people never knew where Victoria was—even British Columbia. One gas station attendant thought it was in South America."

VISIT NEW YORK
From New Orleans the pair traveled up the coast to Florida, spending three days at Box Tower, Central Florida, before resuming the journey through the larger cities of the eastern states to New York. After taking in the points of interest in a three-day stay, they continued northward through Connecticut to Springfield, Massachusetts.

From Springfield they came westward to Niagara Falls, passing through Albany, New York. There, a drug store clerk, like many others during the trip, asked where the two came from and how far they had been. When told Victoria, Canada, was home, the clerk was surprised, remarking they looked like they might have been Americans.

"He figured Canadians looked entirely different," said Well-burn, "but he wasn't they only one who we found had funny ideas about Canada."

In crossing the border into Canada at Niagara Falls they were set back at having to unpack everything on the motorcycle for Canadian customs officials with the temperature at 10 degrees above zero.

VISIT PATRICKS
In Toronto on March 19 they visited Muzz and Lynn Patrick and witnessed a hockey game between the New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs. From there they went to Ottawa and after looking around the Canadian capitol, returned to Toronto, then back into the United States through Detroit and then to Chicago. They returned through the middle states, in Wyoming running into a blizzard 100 miles from a town.

In Idaho they made their biggest one-day jump—628 miles. They then crossed to Portland and returned to Port Angeles.

The average day's mileage was 400 miles. Not a day of sickness was experienced by either of them, although they passed through all conditions in a short time.

Only three punctures were had during the whole trip, the only repairs that had to be made on the motorcycle.

game tremendously if they cut down their dribbling. Every time St. Andrews got the ball the game slowed to a walk. Ches, McCance, the skipper, was a particular offender, we thought, and when ever he got the leather Dominoes always had plenty of time to get their men covered before there was much action.

There were only 20 persons called during the game, a pretty clean record for a western final. Ed. Smith was the only one banished on personals and he didn't go off until late.

It looked like old times to see C. F. "Mory" Moriarty of the Canadian Press, tapping out the story of the game over direct Morse wire to Vancouver, as it was being written for him by our sports editor. Since the advent of the teletype machine the operators have taken a back seat in the newspaper game. "Once you learn this you never forget it," Mory told us as he tapped away when we asked if he found any trouble keeping up with the game.

was kept on the bench for the remainder of the game. Winnipeg appeared to work a little smoother in the last two quarters, and although they checked the Dominos more closely were unable to cut into the lead.

Although he was only on the floor for two quarters, Jackson was runner-up to Rowe in the Victoria, scoring with nine points. Roy Taylor was next with five, while Art Chapman and Davies contributed four apiece.

Winnipeg scoring was well divided, with Dick Flower being top man with five points. Carmichael, Leighton Robinson, Alex. Milton and Tomes each scored four.

In a preliminary game Naimo Harvey Murphy, British Columbia intermediate A boys' champions, defeated Victoria Chinese Students, lower island senior B men's titleholders, 36 to 26.

Walker, a bean-pole type who stands 6 feet 4 inches, is called the "laziest" high-jumper in America. "But I'm not really lazy," he insists. "It's just the way I jump."

Watching him perform one never thinks he'd make 5 feet. He takes a short run—if one can call it that—of about 12 yards. He walks his first two steps and hits a mark he has placed on the ground. He slightly accelerates the next three strides—barely a trot. The next four are rhythmically even, so that as his leg comes up on his fourth stride it actually is the take-off over the bar.
